ANOTHER ACTION NOW INSTITUTED

Department Proceeds Against Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association.

SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST LAW

Charge Filed at Birmingham Under Instructions From Washington—Higher Cost of Living One of Allegations.

Washington, June 15.—Another action under the Sherman anti-trust law was started by the Department of Justice today when Oliver D. Street, United States attorney for the Northern District of Alabama, was instructed to file at Birmingham a petition against the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, its officers and members, alleging that the Association constitutes a combination and conspiracy in restraint of trade and asking that it be dissolved.

The suit, it was said at the Department today, is one of the results of the investigations which the government for some time past has been making with reference to combinations that seek to eliminate competition, maintains a high scale of profit and increases the cost of living. In the opinion of the officials the investigation clearly indicated that an unlawful conspiracy exists.

Mr. Street was in conference for several days with the Department and left last night for Birmingham. The issue will be pushed to a speedy trial, the officials believing that they have ample evidence to substantiate the charges made.

The following statement regarding the matter was made at the Department of Justice:

"The petition alleged that the combination was organized for the purpose of and has resulted in coercing and preventing manufacturers from selling the actual necessaries of life direct to the retail dealer or consumer or to any wholesale grocer in the Southern States unless said grocer is listed in a so-called 'Green Book' published and distributed by the association; that manufacturers are persuaded, urged and coerced by the association to fix limited selling prices at which staple articles of food are to be sold and to refuse to sell such commodities to any wholesale grocer who does not maintain the prices so fixed and listed; that in certain lines of manufacturers and producers have been induced to bill their goods at an enhansed price and to turn over a percentage to the president of the association, who rebated the same to the jobbers maintaining such limited selling price; that no firm could become a member of the association or be listed in the 'Green Book' unless a majority of the other firms in the locality gave their approval; and that unless such firm duly listed, it was unable to secure direct buying privileges from those manufacturers who observed certain 'rules of practice' adopted by the association."

There are many other allegations set forth in the bill as to the general scheme and plane by which this combination sought to prevent the free flow of competition among the members thereof and to restrict trade and commerce.

The Department for some time has received complaints as to the burdens suffered by the people of the Southern States because of the operations of this association. After a careful investigation the Department believes that the association operates to increase the cost of the necessities of life, such as coffee, sugar, cereals, soap and many other lines.

The association as set out in the government's petition or bill consists of various firms and corporations engaged in the wholesale grocery business within the States and Territories of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indian Territory, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Specifically the action was brought against the general association, and all its members, the McLester-VanHoose Company, of Alabama; James A. VanHoose, of Alabama; Robert McLester, of Alabama; the Alabama Grocery Company, of Alabama; S. W. Lee, of Alabama; Joseph H. McLaurin, of Florida; L. M. Hooper, of Alabama; F. S. Hashagen, of North Carolina; C. W. Bartleson, of Florida; Robert Moore, of Alabama; Thomas C. Davis, of Arkansas; B. B. Farnshaw, of the District of Columbia; C. C. Guest, of Georgia; F. H. Scovell, of Louisiana; W. T. Reeves, of Mississippi; R. A. Morrow, of North Carolina; J. H. C. Wulbern, of South Carolina; J. D. Faucette, of Tennessee; W. A. Scott, of Virginia, and James W. Lee, of Alabama. A number of these persons are officers or members of the advisory board of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association.

In addition to the decree of dissolution the court is asked perpetually to restrain the defendants from doing any act in pursuance of or for the purpose of carrying out such combination and conspiracy complained of.

Action at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., June 15.—A petition for an injunction against the Southern Wholesale Grocers Association was filed here this afternon by Assistant District Attorney J. H. Montgomery pursuant to instructions from the Department of Justice in Washington.

The petition charges that the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association is an illegitimate combination in restraint of trade and the government prays that the association be dissolved and permanently enjoined from carrying out its practices in the United States.

The application by the United States for a permanent injunction followed an injunction made in this city by a local morning newspaper after which Hinton Clabaugh, a grocer, filed suit against the Wholesale Grocers' Association, for $30,000. He secured judgment for $10,000. After this Mr. Clabaugh was called to Washington and appeared before a Congressional committee. The petition for injunction followed.

STATE TEACHERS AT ASHEVILLE

Day of Assembly Was Divided Between Business and Pleasure,

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL ADDRESS

Address by Prof. R. H. Wright—Prof. Seagle Discussed Play Grounds. Interesting Papers by Several Teachers.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., June 15.—The 600 members of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly had a busy day, divided between business and pleasure, the latter including a trolley ride about the city. The feature of tonight's session was the annual address of President D. H. Hill, of the Assembly, who spoke upon "After the Ferment, What?"

It was a thoughtful address in which the speaker outlined some of the propositions before the teachers, who, he said, were not united upon any definite line. Some wanted Greek and Latin introduced, some agricultural methods introduced in the schools, etc. He believed the girl who is teaching to buy wedding garments would give place to the possibly less attractive but more efficient spinsterhood. He believed the ferment would result in better teachers, more refined of voice, manners and mind.

Miss Jessie Field, of Page county, Iowa, addressed the association on school work in that county.

W. J. Spillman, of the Department of Agriculture, who was billed to speak, failed to appear and his place was very acceptably filled by President R. H. Wright, of the Eastern Training School, who spoke upon "The Trained Teacher."

One of the incidents of the day came during the session of the department of superintendents when Dr. Frank M. McMurry, of Columbia University, amplified upon his address of last night in which he advocated a broad utilitarianism in the curriculum of the schools. He would eliminate from the text books impracticable problems and things which could not be connected with the life of today. Some of the teachers misunderstood his position, believing him to want to reduce education to a mere matter of dollars and cents, but Supt. J. Y. Joyner happily came to the rescue with an explanation that the proposed innovations and eliminations were only such as would take out the useless; not a conversion of education into commercialism.

Prof. P. E. Seagle, of the Wilmington High School, discussed playgrounds as a factor in the development of the esprit de corps of the student body, in the session of principals. In the department of secondary education F. P. Hobgood, of Oxford, speaking on adaptation of the course in the high school to the needs of the pupil going to college, would eliminate Latin, while John Graham, of the Warrenton High School, advocated for boys going out into life from the high school, that Latin be retained for general culture. In the department of elementary education the topic was child study in relation to a course of study. Papers were read by Miss Lela Young, of Durham, and one written by Miss Lewis Dull, of Winston, was read by Mrs. Hollowell.

AT RICHMOND COLLEGE.

Commencement Exercises—Davis Statue in Hall of Fame.

Richmond, Va., June 15.—Richmond College today conferred the degree of doctor of divinity on Rev. J. E. Hicks, of Danville, Va.; Rev. George S. Kennard, of Ashland, Ky., and Rev. Ryland Knight, of this city.

The commencement day orator at the college was the Rev. Dr. B. D. Gray, of Atlanta, Ga. In the course of his address he held that a statue of Jefferson Davis should stand in the National Hall of Fame at Washington. "As Lee's statue is yonder in the National Capitol," he said, "so by all the stars of the South that of Jefferson Davis should be there."

San Francisco, June 15.—Following instructions in regard to the Jeffries-Johnson fight Governor Gillett today telegraphed to Attorney General Webb to take legal steps to stop the 20-round fight between Al. Kaufman and Sam Langford, scheduled to take place here June 18th.

GILLETT TO STOP THE 'FRISCO FIGHT

Instructs Attorney General to Prevent Jeffries-Johnson Mill.

WANT TO LAND PANAMA SHOW

California State Authorities Heeded Warning of Congressmen Bennet. Jeffries Appeared Crestfallen When Informed.

San Francisco, June 15.—Stirred to action by insistent protests from all parts of the State and country, Governor James N. Gillett, today took steps to prevent the championship fight between James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson, scheduled to be held in San Francisco on July 4th.

In a letter to Attorney General Webb, the Governor today expressed his disapproval of prize fighting in unmeasured terms and directed that the aid of the courts be invoked to prevent the match. He concluded with a positive order that, in case the plea for a restraining order be not granted and the fight be held, the Attorney General proceed to gather evidence and prosecute the principals and those interested in the fight for violation of the penal code of the State.

The Governor declares that the Supreme Court of California has never defined a prize fight and suggests that an opportunity be given it to do so. This is taken by those interested to indicate the Governor's intention to press his opposition to the end. While the status of the fight is in an unsettled condition tonight, the sporting fraternity is much cast down and it is generally believed that the death knell of prize fighting in California, the "mecca of prize fighters," according to the Governor's letter, has been sounded. The belief is borne out by the fact that the Governor telegraphed to Attorney General Webb later in the day to take similar action as to the fight scheduled for June 18th in San Francisco between Sam Langford and Al Kaufman.

Promoters Tex Rickard and John Gleason said that they had heard no whisper of the Governor's intended action. When the news reached him, Rickard rushed to the office of Attorney General Webb and asked what that officer purposed to do. After a conference with Webb, Rickard said he believed that the fight would be held in San Francisco on the advertised date, despite the Governor's orders.

Rickard has no intention of abandoning the effort to hold the fight here. Both he and Gleason devoted much time today to conference with their attorney, Herbert Choynski. The course of legal defense decided on probably will not be given out until Mr. Webb has made a statement.

Rickard said Webb had promised him, because of the great expense of erecting the arena and other matters connected with the fight, that his opinion would be forthcoming without delay. Rickard expects it within two day. In the meantime Rickard says he would prepare to take the fight to Nevada or Utah if compelled to leave California.

Just what will be the nature of the legal proceedings to be instituted by the Attorney General is not known. The Governor's letter is positive in directing that the courts be asked to intervene and urging a definition of prize fighting by the Supreme Court. For this reason it is believed that Mr. Webb will apply for a writ of mandamus before the State's highest tribunal thus bringing all parties before that body for a hearing and procuring a temporary injunction, pending a decision. By this step he would avoid delay, since the promoters would have appeal if judgment were rendered against them.

When word of the Governor's order reached Ben Lomond Jim Jeffries refuseo to believe it. The camp was

Pinchot and Garfield Await Teddy's Return

New York, June 15.—Two of the happiest men in the United States are Gifford Pinchot and James R. Garfield. The return of Col. Roosevelt means much to these two men, for they were original members of his tennis cabinet, and they expect the Colonel to join them in an effort to vindicate their fight on Secretary Ballinger. When this snapshot was taken of the two men they had been holding a whispered conversation for some time. Both men certainly seem pleased. A portion of their conversation referred to: "Well, June 18 is a big day."

GRAND LODGE OF PYTHIANS

Officers Elected and $4,300 Raised by Popular Subscription for Orphanage—Use of Symbols. Ceremonial Session.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Charlotte, N. C., June 15.—Following a busy morning session, when the new officers were elected for the ensuing year by the North Carolina Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the afternoon session of the lodge engaged in an exhaustive discussion of the use of the Pythian name and symbols by colored lodges, calling themselves Pythians, and it was decided unanimously that a memorial and overture should be prepared and forwarded to the Supreme Grand Lodge against the practice of the colored organizations.

The handsome Pythian orphanage, now being completed at Clayton, was the topic of a considerable part of the afternoon's deliberations. An important step was taken when it was suggested that subscriptions be taken for the orphanage, and the sum of $4,300 was quickly promised by individual Pythians. The lodge also reverted to the subject of suspensions of members in the subordinate lodges and set tomorrow morning for a complete investigation of the matter and for formal action thereon.

The terms of the new trustees of the orphanage, Geo. L. Hackney, of Asheville, and J. D. Pridgen, of Durham, were fixed at five and four years, respectively.

Tonight the D. O. K. K., are in command of the situation, the ceremonial session beginning at 8 o'clock sharp with Grand Vizier Chas. A. Bland, of Charlotte, officiating. A big class of wanderers of the desert have been scheduled for admission into Suez Temple amid the encouragements and Godspeeds of those who have already passed into the sacred portals.

Officers elected this morning are: Grand Chancellor, E. A. McCausland, Charlotte; Vice Grand Chancellor, C. C. McLean, Greensboro; Grand Prelate, Rev. W. B. Duttera, Salisbury; Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, W. T. Hollowell, Goldsboro; Grand Master Exchequer, J. C. Mills, Rutherfordton; Grand Master at Arms, C. H. Beine, Raleigh; Grand Inner Guard, H. T. Powell, Henderson; Grand Outer Guard, S. A. Robinson, Gastonia; Supreme Representative, T. H. Webb, Durham; Orphanage Trustees, Geo. L. Hackney, Asheville, and J. D. Pridgen, Durham.

Having passed the ten thousand mark in membership the Grand Lodge is entitled to a third Supreme Representative to the Supreme Grand Lodge and Past Grand Chancellor Thomas H. Webb, of Duke, was elected to the office.

The lodge today heard an important address on the insurance feature by Union L. Hunt, of Indianapolis, and transacted other important business.

SENATE PASSES LAND BILL.

Amended to Provide $30,000,000 for Irrigation Projects.

Washington, June 15.—The public land withdrawal bill was passed today by the Senate after a debate upon that measure which covered the entire session. Just before adjournment the Statehood bill was laid before the Senate as the unfinished business, thus insuring its consideration and probably its passage during the present session.

The land bill was so amended as to provide for the issuance of $30,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness with which to complete irrigation projects already in course of construction.

The bill providing for a new civil government for Porto Rico was passed by the House today. This measure is planned to take the place of the Foraker Act under which the island is now governed. It provides for a more representative government than is administered under the present law. Both Houses will be in session tomorrow.

CONGRESS TO ADJOURN SOON

Plans Announced by Senate Leaders After Careful Canvass of Both Branches—Closing Sessions on June 25th.

Washington, June 15.—Congress is expected to adjourn one week from next Saturday, or on June 25th, according to plans made public by Senate leaders today, after consultations with House leaders, a careful canvass of both branches, and a revision of the Senate's legislative programme.

The plans perfected today are as follows: The Statehood bill was made the "unfinished business" immediately upon the passage of the land withdrawal bill today.

The conference report on the railroad bill is to be called up tomorrow, however, and pending disposition of it the Statehood bill temporarily will be laid aside.

Postal Savings Bank legislation was forced aside by the new order but the agreement provides for its consideration following Statehood.

In connection with the consideration of the railroad bill conference report it is expected that several brief speeches will be made during which Western Senators will discuss the long and short haul provision. Senator Newlands, the minority member of the conference committee, will oppose the adoption of the report.

The arrangement, of informal understanding, that the Senate would concur in the House amendments to the postal bank bill, was contingent upon the adoption of the Statehood bill. This means, however, that the Senate measure for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona is to be substituted for the bill which passed the House. The two measures are strikingly different and it was stated that it might require considerable pressure from the White House to reconcile the differences, but that President Taft was convinced that the task was not impossible.

The action of the Senate in adopting the bill for the issuance of certificates of indebtedness to furnish money to complete reclamation projects as an amendment to the land withdrawal bill, caused Western Senators to express fear that it might encounter obstacles in conferences. This fear was based upon statements that the House was opposed to the reclamation measure.

AN APPEAL.

Editor Star:—It has become necessary to appeal to our churches and individuals to give money to the treasury of the Associated Charities. This comes mainly from two causes:

1. "Tag Day" was not used for good reasons.

2. Most of our churches have given little or less than in former years.

Only one church has given liberally. Please ask our good people to give money to our treasury and we will continue to use it with scrupulous care and economy.

UNITED WIRELESS ALLEGED FRAUD

STOCK WAS MANIPULATED

Charged That Many Have Been Defrauded of Their Savings Through Misrepresentations—One Officer Made $5,000,000—Details.

New York, June 15.—United States postoffice inspectors raided the handsome Broadway offices of the United Wireless Telegraph Company today and caused the arrest of Christopher C. Wilson, president of the company; Samuel S. Bogart, first vice president, and William M. Tompkins, president of the New York Selling Agency, which officers of the Wireless company say was formerly their financial agent, but has ceased to represent them.

Chief Inspector Mayer subsequently gave out a formal statement in which he charges that although the company has been running at a loss, the price of its shares has been advanced by manipulation to fictitious values and that individual officers of the company have sold out their stock to the general public at a profit estimated in one instance at between five and ten millions, with other instances in proportion.

Wilson was released in $25,000 bail and Bogart in $10,000 bail for appearance on July 12th when a further hearing will be held before a Federal commissioner. Tompkins was arrested at his farm near Mahopac Falls, N. Y., and brought here for arraignment. He could not find the $10,000 bail required and spent the night in the tombs.

The complaint on which the warrants were issued is drawn under the Federal criminal code, on information of Carter B. Keene, a postoffice inspector, who deposes that the grounds of his belief are official investigations made by him, information obtained by him from the books of the said United Wireless Telegraph Company and the inspection of letters and envelopes sent by the postoffice establishment of the United States through the United States mails.

The specific instance of alleged fraudulent use of the mails is given as the mailing of a letter on March 3rd, 1910 to Michael O'Brien, of Waterbury, Conn.

"There are 28,000 shareholders of the company throughout the country," said Inspector Mayer in his statement, "many of whom have placed their savings in the stock of the company through false representations made by its officers.

"The real assets of the company, consisting of land stations, patents, manufacturing plants and real estate of all kinds, appear to be worth at a conservative estimate $400,000, or an actual worth of two cents a share at par value."

Two million shares have been issued at a par value of $10 a share, but the stock has recently been put up to $50 a share. Thus, argues the inspector in his statement, "by taking the last amount quoted ($400,000 of actual assets) at $50 a share, the stock is really worth as $400,000 is to $1,000,000,000 or $.0004 a share."

The inspector says the company was originally incorporated under the laws of Maine in 1904 as the Amalgamated Wireless Securities Company and that it had merely a legal existence until it changed its name in 1906 to its present title and took over the assets and business of the defunct American DeForest Wireless Telegraph Company which was then running at a loss and in default in interest on its bonds exchanging therefor its own securities on a ten for one basis.

At this time, says the statement, "when officers of the DeForest company were secretly conniving to abandon it and leave the stockholders a mass of worthless securities its stock had been forced to an alleged value of $12.50 a share or $2.50 above par. In the statement issued to the stockholders, (of the United) there appear as assets stocks and bonds in other companies, $14,148,610. This refers to the defunct American DeForest Wireless stock. * * * * Yet to those persons who ask for exchange of DeForest for United Wireless the answer is sent out that the DeForest is absolutely worthless.

Another item in the statement sent out to stockholders was patents and patent rights $5,520,233. The affairs of the company were recently audited by a firm of licensed acountants who placed the book value of all patents at $20,233.

The officers of the company have sold to the public thousands of shares, claiming all the while that they were holding their own shares and putting the money received from the public into the plants of the company. One of the officers is believed to have cleaned up $5,000,000 at $10 a share and possibly $10,000,000 at the ranging prices of $10 and $50. The other officers of lesser degree have profited in proportion."

A statement given out by C. C. Galbraith, general manager of the United, says that the "action of the Federal authorities will in no way affect the commercial business of the company."

Arthur M. King, counsel of the United, said tonight that for several months the Postoffice Department had been harrassing the company here and elsewhere. He attributed the present prosecution to the discontent of certain stockholders who might have been unfairly treated by other stockholders. These latter stockholders had, however, no connection, he said, with the management of the company. He disowned responsibility for advertisements of stock which he said had been put out by the New York selling agency, now defunct, over the protest of the United management.

"The charge," continued Mr. King, "is under the general statute regarding the use of the mails to defraud. The real significance of it lies in the allegation that Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bogart sold stock which they held and made money by it. Why shouldn't they? The stock was theirs and they had bought it. Some of it they took for arrears in salary. A short time ago they voluntarily returned to the company 400,000 shares of their stock with a par value of $4,000,000.

"The complaints say that the company wouldn't transfer to their name stock which was bought by them. As a matter of fact this stock was sold by certain stockholders who had obtained it in what we regard as an illegal manner. The stock was never paid for and for that reason the company refused to transfer it."

Christopher Columbus Wilson, president of the United, is a financier of the self-made school. He was born in Mississippi in 1845 of Irish descent and never had more than three months of schooling. He became successively a cotton farmer, a banker in Denver, a miner and finally a promoter of wireless securities. He lives at the Warldorf-Astoria when in New York.

BIG RULES FIGHT IS NOW BREWING

Factions Preparing For Warm Time in House of Representatives.

RESOLUTIONS ARE OFFERED

End Sought is to Prevent Legislation From Being Smothered in Committee"—Another Fight Against Speaker Cannon Expected.

Washington, June 15.—The next big rules fight in the House of Representatives is brewing rapidly. All parties and all factions of parties were occupied today with consideration of the proposition. The leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties as well as the "insurgents" were engrossed with it.

The question has resolved itself to what the House shall do to provide means by which a member may recall a bill or resolution from a standing committee, after that committee has failed to report. In short the end sought is how to prevent legislation from being "smothered in committee"

The difficulty of providing such a scheme and at the same time not make it a vehicle for filibustering by a hostile minority has heretofore deterred action. It is the general opinion now, however, the present session will see some such rule adopted by the House.

Two proposed rules on the subject were offered in the House today—one by Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri, leader of the minority, which represents the composite Democratic idea on the subject, and another by Representative Madison, (Republican) of Kansas, one of the leaders of the "insurgent" Republicans. Both attempt to deal with one condition, but in somewhat dissimilar parliamentary manner. The Clark resolution was the product of a conference in the minority leaders room, lasting most of the afternoon, which was participated in by all of the Democratic members of the Rules Committee and Representative Sherly, of Kentucky. The latter is the author of a similar resolution which he presented some weeks ago. The Clark resolution is largely founded on the Sherley resolution. The Madison resolution is designed to secure "insurgent" support.

Both the Clark and Madison resolutions were referred today to the Rules Committee. This committee will meet tomorrow. Representative Sherley will appear before it and other rule proponents also will address the committee.

The insurgents held a meeting today on the question of the rules and the general subject of "insurgency" but accomplished nothing, and the meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock tomorrow. It is expected that this conference will consider the question again attempting the deposition of Speaker Cannon from the chair.

The question of rules "reform" may not reach the floor of the House before next week, but the movement is gathering volume rapidly.

New Orleans, June 15.—All prospects of a revival of horse racing in Louisiana were dispelled this afternoon when members of Merchants Racing Committee of New Orleans announced that they had abandoned their fight for legislation favorable to their cause at this session of the Louisiana Assembly.

With rain all around the circuit again yesterday, the teams of the Eastern Carolina League circuit shift today for the week-end games, Rocky Mount at Wilmington; Wilson at Fayetteville and Raleigh at Goldsboro. Umpire J. R. Davis arrived last evening from Raleigh and will officiate at the games here. The Sailor lads also came in from Rocky Mount and will be well prepared for the fray at the Park this afternoon provided, of course, that the Weather Gods are willing.

The Railroaders have recently played in hard luck and many who nave witnessed all the clubs in action say that Rocky Mount is there with the best of them, so that those who have been entertaining an idea that the Sailors are going to have a walk-over, had as well dispel that idea once for all. The games at League Park the latter half of the week promise to be as good as have been seen here and the fans and fannies should turn out in goodly numbers to see them.

All Ye Fans of high and low degree, get ye hence to the ball lot this afternoon. They need the money; and you need the sport.

"The Eastern Carolina League is now having one of the articles that has made baseball in the Carolina circuit shaky throughout the year."—Rocky Mount Record. You're pretty nigh right, brother.

Good patronage the next few days will do lot to offset the heavy drain on the treasury due to inability to play scheduled games. Right now is the time for the fans to show they're true sports, and turn out in droves.

The following is from the Wilson correspondence of the News and Observer: "Hudson, who caught for the Sailors in the opening game in Wilson, has signed up with the Champions and will be in the line-up from now on. It will be remembered that it was partly owing to his good work that caused Wilson to lose out in the first game."

The past three days of rainy weather has been a great blow to the finances of the various clubs, and it is earnestly hoped a great crowd of the faithful will take in the games at League Park today, tomorrow and Saturday. Rocky Mount is leading the organization in club fielding, and there ought to be some fine playing pulled off in Wilmington during the next three days. Brooks will probably work this afternoon, and you know what that spells. And if the Railroaders' management see fit to pit the Big Chief against the Virginia pippin you can look out for some game.

The Rocky Mount Record says: "Wilson takes its hat off to Brooks with the following: 'That man Brooks must have been a wonder. Think of it, he fanned eleven of the champions and allowed only one hit. We want to see that lad work, but not in that style.' Brooks will no doubt work in one of the series here. It was generally believed that Brooks was loaned by Lynchburg of the Virginia League; however, this is not the case, as the Sailors' management declare emphatically that Brooks is the property of the Wilmington Club. He means further trouble in this league." We always thought there was a string attached to Brooksey, and that he was a farmer boy sojourning with Wilmington at the pleasure of Lynchburg (and for our pleasure) in order to make room for Sexton; and the above dope listens mighty well to the fans around this neck of the woods.

Observations

By a 33rd Degree Fan.

It is probably true that dissensions and disorders among a baseball team will break it up and cause it to lose games, but very often the reasons advanced in support of this claim are groundless.

Every now and then when some pitcher is getting his bumps, we hear the cry that the team is not supporting him for some cause or other. After some years of observation the writer is convinced that there is very little, if any foundation, for such a claim, and believes that the real reason the pitcher is losing his game is because he is not pitching the right quality of ball.

There is no absolute proof that can be brought for or against the claim because if a team really makes up its mind not to support the pitcher, they would hardly be foolish enough to say so, as it would jeopardize their position on the team.

People who advance this claim usually point to the errors the team makes when the pitcher is on the mound, in support of their theory, but what player would actually make an error and deliberately hurt his own record for the sake of satisfying a grouch. I have found ball players to be made out of the same stuff as other man-kind. They are ambitious, they want a good record, because the record is their recommendation to higher leagues and more money. So strong is this love of a record in the breast of all ball players that it often causes the loss of a game through lack of team work, each player thinking more of his individual record than he does of the loss of a game.

Recognizing this fact, the rules committee some years ago in order to promote team work decided to credit the batter with every sacrifice hit made by him, and not charge him with a time at bat when a sacrifice hit is made. It is also a well defined rule among official scorers to give the fielder the benefit of a doubt, and not charge him with an error when a ball is hit so hard that he cannot handle it in time to cut off the runner.

This rule has improved the quality of ball played and the necessity for such a rule is good grounds for doubting the theory that the team is throwing down the pitcher.

Then again it is much easier for a team to field cleanly behind a first class pitcher than behind a poor one. Witness the games Brooks pitched here. There was scarcely a hard chance in the game, because he had the batters fooled so badly that they could not meet the ball squarely.

If the management of the Wilmington team has reason to believe that a player entitled to a regular position on the team would be handicapped by his team mates it is their duty to play the man and put the recalcitrant members on the bench without pay.

KNOX FOR ARBITRATION.

Delivers Commencement Address at the University of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, June 15.—"If this government can help to upbuild its neighbors and promote the thought that the capital of the more advanced nations of the world would be better employed in assisting the peaceful development of those more backward, than in financing wars, it is such a deviation from traditions as the American people will approve."

Secretary Knox, speaking today at the commencement exercises of the University of Pennsylvania on "The Spirit and Purpose of American Diplomacy," voiced that sentiment principally as the keynote of his review of American statecraft from its beginning.

Beginning with John Jay's treaty of 1794 with Great Britain for the peaceful settlement of boundary disputes, which he declared ushered in the modern arbitration, Secretary Knox declared that American diplomacy had been a diplomacy of real and definite direction and spirit, not based on expediency nor driven by the variable winds of opportunism, and one which had in its justice, candor, moderation and generosity reflected the becoming attributes of a great people.

The place which this nation has taken in the promotion of arbitration, Mr. Knox commended highly, paying generous reference to his predecessors for their part of the work and referring only modestly to his own work of promoting an International Prize Court with the functions of a court of Arbitral Justice.

The United States, Mr. Knox declared, had taken the advanced ground that arbitration is a judicial more than a diplomatic procedure and the decision of such a court must conform to the principles of law and equity involved and controlling. The initiative of the United States in promoting such a court he said he believed would lead to the early establishment at The Hague of a permanent court of arbitration.

Barger, beside pitching a brilliant game, made four hits, two of which brought in runs. The visitors had many chances to win, but were balked by sensational pitching and fielding in the pinches. STATE OFFICES CLOSED

Peculiar Situation In Oklahoma—Haskell Speaks.

Omaha City, Okla., June 15.—Closing of the offices of the State Treasurer and the State Auditor today and the consequent tying up of the financial affairs of the State, marked a new phase of the capital removal contest.

Treasure Menefee and Auditor Trapp say their offices will remain officially closed until the capital removal injunctions are determined by the courts.

Not a bill against the State is to be paid. Scores of employes chafing under enforced idleness, are unable to draw a dollar of salary.

Judge A. H. Huston is asked to render his decision in the demurrer to the injunction tomorrow. Governor Haskell is to appear in the Federal court on Friday on citation issued by Judge Cottrell. No decisive move is expected on the part of Guthrie until the courts have passed on the pending actions.

Before a vast audience at State fair park tonight Governor Haskell stated his position on the summary removal of the capital from Guthrie to Oklahoma City and again held that the enabling act is not binding in Oklahoma. He declared that when the people of Oklahoma by an overwhelming majority voted for the capital location bill and by a much larger majority for Oklahoma City as the permanent seat of government he had no other alternative than to come to Oklahoma City to transact official business.

PEE DEE LEAGUE.

Lanrinburg Again Defeats Jonesboro and Sanford Team.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Laurinburg, N. C., June 15.—A much better game than yesterday was played today in a seven-inning game between Laurinburg and Jonesboro-Sanford. The field work was better and the pitchers for both teams allowed fewer hits. Waters, who is a new twirler for the home team, showed up in fine shape, allowing only three hits in his first game since last season. He bids fair to shine brilliantly. Makepeace, on the mound for the visitors, pitched an excellent game from beginning to end. White, Soubeyroux and Roberts featured. Score:

S. S. S. PERMANENTLY HEALS SORES & ULCERS

Old sores remain open and chronic ulcers refuse to heal because they are kept constantly irritated and infected by impurities in the blood. This impurity of the circulation comes from various causes. A long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, the retention of refuse matters of the body because of a sluggish condition of the eliminative members, a continued malarial state of health, inherited bad blood, etc., are usually responsible. But whatever the cause of the infected circulation, the sore or ulcer CANNOT heal until the blood is purified. S. S. S. heals sores and ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes into the circulation and removes the impurities and polluted matter which are the means of keeping the sore open; then the sore is bound to heal. S. S. S. is the finest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation but it adds the necessary healing qualities to the blood, and in this way assists nature to quickly cure sores and ulcers. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., can do no permanent good toward healing an old sore because such treatment does not reach the blood. These external applications may be soothing and cleansing, but the healing must begin at the bottom, and this is just what S. S. S. does by first purifying the blood, and then furnishing nourishment and health to all the flesh tissues. Book on Sores and Ulcers free to all who write and request it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

That of Wilmington Baptist Association Convenes at Burgaw—Able Addresses During the Day. Rain in Plenty.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., June 15.—The Wilmington Baptist Sunday School Convention met at the Baptist church in Burgaw this morning. The rains were pouring down and whatever else may be said about it, it was no dry time. The attendance was not large on account of the rain, though the morning session was full of interest.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Rev. W. B. Rivenbark, of Teachey's. Miss Lorena Bland presided at the organ and the choir of Burgaw church gave us fine singing. The morning devotional meeting was led by Rev. C. F. Whitlock, of Wilmington, who read from the 12th Chapter of Acts, and called on Rev. J. A. Smith, of Wilmington, to offer the opening prayer.

The chief address of the morning was delivered by Rev. G. A. Martin, of Wilmington, on the topic, "The Civic Value of the Sunday School." This was an able address, well prepared and eloquently delivered, dealing with some of the very vital issues of good citizenship and showing how the Sunday Schools are making for good citizenship.

Rev. R. E. Peele, of Burgaw, also spoke on this subject, as did also Rev. Mr. Liles, of Jacksonville, and Rev. W. M. Sikes, of the Presbyterian church in Burgaw. Several others made some remarks upon this subject after which the convention adjourned for dinner.

The convention reassembled at 2:30 and after devotional service led by Rev. W. B. Rivenbark the regular programme was taken up and Rev. R. E. Peele delivered one of his characteristic speeches which no reporter can even describe. J. T. Bland, Esq., next spoke on the query, "In This Age of Liberalism Should Baptists Contend for Their Distinctive Principles?" Rev. J. A. Smith next spoke on this subject. He noted the distinctive principles of the Baptists and showed why we should teach them in our Sunday schools.

Rev. G. A. Martin and others spoke upon this subject. Rev. F. A. Liles, of Jacksonville, delivered a strong address at night on "The Church Member's Duty to the Sunday School."

RAINS DAMAGE CROPS.

In Nash and Edgecombe Tobacco and Cotton Suffers.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 15.—Rain continues to fall and crops are being further damaged by the incessant downpour. Young tobacco, which was considered the prize crop of the two counties before the heavy rains of the past ten days, is now practically ruined and farmers from all parts of both counties report both cotton and tobacco as "drowned out." When a person who travels Edgecombe county daily was seen this morning he stated that the rains had flooded crops more than he has ever seen before. He stated that tobacco presented a lifeless appearance, while cotton was practically gone, and that a new planting of both would in all probability be necessary and even then a late Fall would be necessary to raise a crop to any amount.

Farmers all over the counties are pessimistic and with no hold-up in the rains it looks as though there is very little prospects for a good yield. The crops were in fairly good condition before the recent hains. However, they have practically been drowned out.

Tar river continued to rise during the morning and about 10 o'clock today it reached the point on the scale kept at the Rocky Mount Mills that is known as high water mark. The river is well up and with the continued rising it gives promise of surpassing the point reached by the freshet of the early Spring. The water is now going over the dam at the falls at a height of about four or five feet. There have been no reports of bridges washing away as yet, though the same may be expected with the continued rising of the river.

AFFAIRS IN GRANVILLE.

Bad Negro Under Arrest at Oxford—Farm Demonstration Work.

Oxford, N. C., June 15.—A negro giving his name as John Hamlin from Roxboro, N. C., was brought to Oxford today and lodged in jail. He went to the home of T. M. Cash in Walnut Grove township yesterday and asked for something to eat. At that time the only members of the family at home were two young girls and a baby. They gave the negro something to eat and asked him to leave. He showed no disposition to obey and the girls becoming frightened ran to the house of the nearest neighbor. Two men from this house provided themselves with arms and going over to Mr. Cash's house found the negro going through the bureau drawers. They soon put an end to his investigations and detained him until an officer could be summoned to take him to Oxford.

Mr. F. B. Newell, of Warrenton, came to Oxford yesterday to spend several days with A. O. Daniel, in the farm demonstration work in Granville county. Mr. Daniel reports great interest among the farmers of the county in this work. He has about 100 men on his list who are cultivating from one to three acres under his instruction. Mr. Newell is the regular agent for Warren county, and also spends about half of his time in other counties assisting the State agent, C. H. Hudson.

HEAVY RAINS IN SAMPSON

Death of Mrs. Anne Howard McKoy—Crops Badly Damaged—Truck Going to Waste—Children Stung by Bees.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clinton, N. C., June 15.—The remains of Mrs. Anne Howard McKoy, who died Sunday at Wilkesboro, N. C., arrived here this morning and were interred in Clinton cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. R. Noe, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, of which the deceased was for many years a devout member. Mrs. McKoy was the widow of the late Judge Allmand A. McKoy, in his day a leading citizen of Sampson county. She was in the 85th year of her age and before marriage was a Miss Howard, of Georgia. She leaves one son, Thomas H. McKoy, of Salisbury, Md., and one grandson, Allmand McKoy Griggs, of Portsmouth, Va.

Heavy rains have been falling in this section daily since last Friday and crops are greatly injured. The streams are swollen and passing is difficult across them. Mr. A. H. Herring was coming across Coharie yesterday when his horse became frightened while on a bridge and jumped into the river with the buggy. Mr. Herring was able to detach the horse from the buggy and assist him to shore. Part of the harness was lost and the horse, a very fine animal, narrowly escaped drowning.

Despite the cry of high cost of living, thousands of barrels of cabbage and Irish potatoes are going to waste here for the lack of demand that will net the growers anything. These products are being fed to hogs and cattle in large quantities for the first time in the history of trucking here. The crop of huckleberries which is very fine is being greatly damaged by the rains.

Two little boys of Mr. B. E. Herring, a well known merchant here, had an unusual and painful experience yesterday. They were picking briar berries on the premises when they found a swam of bees clustered on a low bush. Thinking these to be a congregation of horse flies, the boys decided to stir them up with a stick with the result that the angry bees swarmed over the little fellows and stung them nearly to death. Mr. and Mrs. Herring were both badly stung in rescuing the children. Dr. Stevens was called and administered antidotes which relieved the injuries inflicted by the bees.

NEWS OF LUMBERTON.

Mr. J. T. Barker Ill.—Col. McLean at Dillon—Personal Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 15.—Mr. J. T. Barker has been confined to his home for several days with an attack of malarial fever, and some of his friends are of the impression that his illness was the result of injuries received in the "Taft Special" on November 9th, but although Mr. Barker has entered suit against the Seaboard for damages, his present sickness is said to be fever, and that there is no cause for alarm. Very few of Mr. Barker's friends knew anything of his having been injured in the wreck until very recently and hope that he may soon be entirely recovered from both troubles.

Col. N. A. McLean is attending court at Dillon, S. C., this week where he appears for the defendant in the first murder case to be tried in the new county. That defendant must have lived in Robeson and knows where to find the best of everything, lawyers included.

Mr. T. E. Petty, the clever Seaboard ticket agent at this place, left for Raleigh last night where he will relieve one of the ticket agents for a month's vacation. Mr. Petty is conceded to be one of the best in the service of the company. During Mr. Petty's absence his place will be filled here by Mr. Lee Caldwell, one of Lumberton's most popular young men.

The family of Mr. D. W. Millsaps left for Marion, S. C., today, where they expect to make their future home.

THE CITY OF ELMS.

Law Enforcement League for Newbern—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., June 15.—In the Court House yesterday afternoon a large representation of citizens met and effected a temporary organization of a "Citizens Law Enforcement League." Rev. A. C. Schuler was elected temporary president and J. J. Baxter secretary and treasurer.

All were agreed that the law, especially the prohibition law, should be enforced, and this is not now being done.

The sentiment of the meeting placed the responsibility on the city officials. "Every movement must have a head, a recognized leader," said Rev. Mr. Schuler, the Tabernacle pastor, and Newbern needs a man for chief of police who can see and hear and think, and at the mention of whose name whiskey will quake and tremble.

Rev. C. S. Greaves, pastor of the First Baptist Church, said he had no money to pay a detective, but had a vote to help elect one to office. Many prominent citizens expressed themselves likewise and the indications are that the city officials are going to be called on to give an account of thier stewardship.

Raleigh News and Observer: The many friends of Dr. D. B. Zollicoffer, of Weldon, will regret to learn that he is sick at home and has been confined to his bed. DUPLIN DEMOCRACY.

Primaries July 23rd, Convention 25th. Rain Causes Damage.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kenansville, N. C., June 14.—At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee held here today, it was decided to hold the primaries on July 23rd and county convention on July 25th.

H. D. Williams, Esq., chairman of the committee, presided and fully explained the plans under which the primaries and convention could be held. The second method was adopted by the committee. The meeting was harmonious in every respect.

Duplin county will increase its majority by 400 votes this year.

Heavy rains have fallen for two days and nights and it is feared that great damage has been done all crops.

There will be a big land sale at Magnolia on Saturday, the 18th, at 11 o'clock.

"NIGH BEER" QUESTION.

Still Before City Council in Rocky Mount—Licenses.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 15.—When the Aldermen of the city meet on Thursday night the near-beer question will again present itself and there are already applications in the hands of the City Clerk for licenses to open places for the sale of the beverage. It will be remembered that license was asked for by four of the persons who were then handling the drink and that they were denied on account of having sold the "nigh" that was one per cent. over what the law called beer. There are two applications in the clerk's office at present and there will in all probability be more before Thursday night. The outcome of the whole affair is not only being watched with interest here but the State at large seems to be taking an interest in the matter.

rests, towel rack, and every up-to-date feature imaginable. You want it, because it will cook any dinner and not heat the room. No heat, no smell, no smoke, no coal to bring in, no ashes to carry out. It does away with the drudgery of cooking, and makes it a pleasure. Women with the light touch for pastry especially appreciate it, because they can immediately have a quick fire, simply by turning a handle. No half-hour preparation. It not only is less trouble than coal, but it costs less. Absolutely no smell, no smoke; and it doesn't heat the kitchen.

The nickel finish, with the turquoise blue of the enameled chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

HERETIC ON FRIED CHICKEN.

The apostate and irreverent Columbia State takes up nearly a column of its editorial space to go back on fried chicken. That misguided contemporary, sorely inflicted with a degenerate taste, actually says fried chicken is "A Popular Southern Fallacy." Under that caption the Columbia story teller indicts a screed, making illogical and baseless statements to the effect that "one of the most exaggerated notions prevailing in this part of the country is about the excellence of fried chicken." The blatant South Carolina editor also makes the outrageous and shocking declaration that "the hallucinations about fried chicken ought to be chilled and reduced to a sane estimation."

Of course, the kind of fried chicken which they have in Columbia warrants a kick. In the first place, the South Carolina way of cooking chicken rare and expecting it to taste good without any salt on it, leads the ill-informed and grouchy tSate paper to put the blame on real fried chicken. In the second place, the State has no right to speak for the South, as it is published in an isolated country which we people of the genuine South have to cross when we go to Georgia and other outside territory.

The State editor in his madness and folly has committed lese majeste against the South. The real truth is that the Columbia fry, simmered in tallow, has given that editor a case of dyspepsia that has left him a vitiated taste and puny judgment.

No doubt the South Carolina writer is a bag of bones, and if he wants to get upholstered with some good flesh, let him come to North Carolina and get acquainted with real fried chicken. The kind of Southern fried chicken, which reaches its highest perfection in North Carolina only, is fried in batter, is properly seasoned, and is served with rice, snow flake biscuit, and 100 per cent brew of dripped coffee with real cream in it.

If the editor of the State were to come away from his provincial surroundings and sit down with real people to a plate of North Carolina fried chicken it would curl his hair and make him an optimist. At present the befogged State is not qualified to speak on fried chicken and is enjoined from further irresponsible efforts to discuss something that it knows nothing about except from heresay.

LIQUOR SOCIALISM.

At Newberry, S. C. on Tuesday, a grand jury returned a true bill against H. H. Evans, a prominent politician, who is charged with receiving rebates while a member and chairman of the board of directors of South Carolina's defunct State Dispensary. South Carolina's State traffic in liquor did so much to blacken names, characters and reputations that it will require a quarter of a century to get rid of the stain.

The man who is indicted was familiarly known all over the State as "Hub" Evans, and if we mistake not he is a brother of Ex-Governor John Gary Evans. South Carolina's socialistic venture into the whiskey business was indeed a hideous failure. The Dispensary was established as "a great moral institution" but it became a cesspool of iniquity and corruption.

Business and politics won't mix and about the worst of all mixtures is the whiskey business and politics.

A new pump has been invented. It comes too late, however, for Lawyer Brandeis to make use of it in pumping Secretary Ballinger. By the way, there was something remarkable about Ballinger's conservation of facts that Brandeis was anxious to get at.

HOW TO ATTRACT SETTLERS.

Every now and then some Congressman sets politics aside for the moment, and in the midst of discussions of great national moment, branches off onto topics outside the Congressional domain.

Representative Ransdell, of Louisiana, did that in the House on Tuesday when he made a booster speech, his slogan being "Go South, Young Men and Immigrants." The remarks of the gentleman from Louisiana were based upon the rather remarkable fact that many of the best citizens of our northwestern States are emigrating by the thousands into Canada instead of coming South where the climate is better, the opportunities are more varied and the possibilities are greater. In that same connection he deplored "the rapid congestion of our cities caused by the growing unpopularity of life on the farm and by the large influx of foreign immigrants, many of whom settle in the cities."

As a remedy for these problems, Mr. Ransdell suggested to the House that the Americans who are going to Canada and the immigrants who are coming here from Europe, should be induced to come South. The speech of the Louisianian made good Southern publicity all right, but as Congress is not handling these problems, a speech like that is a little out of place. Congress should not be expected to help the South induce Americans to come South or aid us in securing foreign immigrants. We can do that ourselves, however, if we go about it right and quit talking about it.

It is just a little bit curious that we can talk loudly and constantly about what we would "like to have", whereas we do not get down to business and go after settlers. We neglect to organize with systematic plans backed by capital, but we "talk" about our wonderful resources and trust to luck for people abroad to accidentally find out that we have the resources and oportunities that we claim to have in such great abundance. We can get the proper publicity for the South if we are willing to spend our money for it and the publicity which we can give our resources will no doubt attract both settlers and capital

We believe thousands of the people who have gone to Canada and who will continue to go over there could be induced to come to the South if a systematic effort is made to get them. However, they simply do not know what we have to offer them. We have taken no well defined and organized steps to inform them. It is true that they may have heard about a great deal of the talk that we do but they have no definite information upon which they can place their fingers. On the other hand, Canada has followed up a strongly organized and vigorous campaign to secure the emigrants whose departure we helplessly and impotently bewail. The Dominion and Provincial governments of Canada offer inducements for new settlers and so do the Canadian railroads, cities, communities and corporations. They come after our emigrants with attractive advertising matter describing the regions, enumerating the opportunities and demonstrating the possibilities which are in store for new settlers. In the South talk is cheap and we spend too much time indulging in a cheap article that gets us nothing. If we want immigrants from other States or from Europe let us organize systematic movements throughout the South and put capital behind them instead of talk.

It is estimated that during the past five years 312,614 American citizens have gone to Canada with money and property wealth estimated at more than $312,000,000. The greatest loss, however, is in the great army of producers who have left this country to go to another and develop its resources. We are thus drained of a great labor asset. Mr. Ransdell commented upon these facts and remarked that "the Southern States would gladly furnish homes to every one of our own citizens who have gone to Canada or contemplate such a move and would welcome all the boys and girls who have left their country homes to seek unfamiliar work in congested cities." He added, moreover, that "we can supply farms to a great many of the foreigners who seek our shores and we are really anxious to receive all good immigrants of the Teutonic, Scandinavian, British and French races."

"Really anxious" is a good word to explain how we feel about it, but that does not get the people here. We may as well talk plain so we can get something out of this agitation. We are tyros in the matter of inducing settlers and encouraging new-comers to the South. In the first place, as a matter of fact, we are not prepared to "furnish homes" to those people who have gone to Canada or who may come here from Europe. As another matter of fact, it is a misstatement to say that "we can supply farms." The real truth about it is we can supply the lands for farms and for homes if the people who come can purchase the land and erect their own houses. Newcomers, if they are able to do so, can convert our cheap lands into farms, but the real trouble is to secure a class of people who can bring with them capital to improve lands and make farms of them and to build homes. We will wait a long, long time if we expect to get that class of people.

Now for the business proposition that there is in it. Let capitalists buy the lands, drain them, divide them into farming tracts and place them in a condition to become productive. Let them build the homes which we talk about and which we really haven't got, and thus have a definite proposition to lay before people who may thus be induced to come South. We haven't the slightest doubt that thousands of new settlers would come South if they knew that they would have substantial assistance, practical encouragement and co-operation in developing farms and making homes. There is a broad field for capital in this kind of work throughout the South. This kind of work will get more people than all your talk. Let land and farm syndicates get busy. That is nothing new in that. It is what did the work for the West and is doing it for Canada.

Congressman Morehead who violated the law and the proprieties in franking circulars from Washington in the interest of the Congressional candidacy of the Hon. S. S. McNinch, of Charlotte, lately turned Republican, did so under the misapprehension that he could influence the mill vote for Col. McNinch. The result has been a sad blow to the prestige of the self-important Mr. Morehead and has done the McNinch boom irreparable injury. Col. McNinch ought to be more careful about the selection of his friends. Remember Old Dog Tray? Anyhow, we thought the Congressional aspirations of the "Roosevelt Democrat" would come into collision with the well distributed horse sense that can be found all over North Carolina.

President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, predicts that the constant conflict between the people and the railroads will finally end in government ownership of railroads. Because Col. Bryan saw it that way several years ago and had the temerity to prophesy, he was kept out of the White House. Prophets generally get chased.

Lest we forget that old Republican slogan, "the dinner pail." Present high prices of food articles make the boastful campaign cry of the G. O. P. a moller hockery. Soft-headed individuals can now get the impression that the dinner pail is not filled but comes very nearly being emptied by Republicanism.

If President Taft has forgotten those campaign pledges of his, he will have his memory rudely awakened by reading the speech which Senator Dolliver made on Monday. A vast number have been printed for distribution and they are handy for the White House.

Senator Dolliver really intended to make the galled jades wince and what he did for them was a plenty. When the Iowa insurgent opens with his heavy artillery it is time for the lightweight regulars to take to the storm cellar.

Pittsburg now proposes to build a $5,000,000 city hall. About the time a grafter makes up his mind to rest on his oars, the Smoky City comes forward with new possibilities for her city authorities to get rich quick.

Those Wake county Democrats appear to be powerfully well acquainted and excessively familiar with each other. Wherefore, there is fresh vindication of the old adage that "familiarity breeds contempt."

The Charleston Post contains an editorial on "Aviation as a sport." How about a sport as an aviator? Wilmington has a sport who "flies around" a dozen girls.

Good home influences and good preaching from the pulpits will have more moral effect than crusades and laws.

"What will be Roosevelt's next step?" inquires the Baltimore Evening Sun. He don't step. He goes it by leaps and bounds.

Most everybody will vote for Roosevelt—to be a captain of industry. He has the energy for the work.

It has not been reported, but it ought to be, that in prefacing his address before the North Carolina Press Association at Wrightsville, last week, Judge Winston took occasion to refer to the essay which had just been read by Editor Wade H. Harris, of the Evening Chronicle on "Harmony in the Sanctum." Judge Winston said that this essay ought to be printed in every newspaper in the State.—Charlotte Observer.

The Wayne county commissioners have donated $2,500 to the building fund of the proposed Goldsboro hospital and the Goldsboro aldermen have given a like amount. The $5,000 makes the establishment of the hospital a certainty, and means the saving of many valuable lives, by procuring facilities for immedite treatment. The promoters of the movement have placed the city and county under an obligation, and that this is appreciated is evidenced by the liberal support offered by the governing bodies of both.—Charlotte Observer.

The President has so far not complied with the request of people who live in the neighborhood of Fort Lawton, in the far Western State of Washington, that the negro troops be removed. When President Roosevelt took vigorous action with reference to negro troops in Texas, the criticism of some papers was that the feeling against the negroes came from a Southern community that could not and would not do the negro justice. Last year the negro troops were quartered in Vermont and there was complaint. Washington is the farthest north of any Western State and was settled largely by New Englanders. Now comes from the State of Washington a demand for their removal. Troops are supposed to be maintained and stationed in different sections of the country for protection, and when they become a menace they should be withdrawn.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Judge Gaynor has just completed six months as mayor of the city of New York. They have been months of remarkable achievement. He went into the office, he says, with his mind filled with the desire to make the government of the city honest and intelligent. His mind was also filled with implacable hatred of the corruption and degradation of government which he had seen so many years. He believes in government by the accredited agents of the people and not at the dictation of outside persons who control them, but assume none of the responsibility of government. Since Judge Gaynor has been in the City Hall of New York the atmosphere has changed. It is hardly like the same place. In an interview with the Mayor which was published in The Sun yesterday he modestly disclaims any special achievement. But what he has achieved has put him in the front rank of those who are in the public mind as being desirable candidates for the Democratic Presidential nomination. With Judge Gaynor in the White House it is not believed that the Cunningham claims would flourish, or that sinister influences would control the Department of the Interior, or that the public lands in the Philippines would go to persons to whom they ought not to go.—Baltimore Sun.

When Mayor Gaynor came into office he was informed that one of the greatest extravagancies of the city was the printing of the City Record and the supplying of stationery and printing to the city departments and he appointed a committee to look into it. The committee has now reported, and waste, graft and larceny are terms that it deals in. The report says that the waste, about which the word larceny is used, had its greatest development in the administration of Mayor McClellan. "In respect of advertising," it says, "we find that there was more than $300,000 of waste in the last two years of Mayor McClellan's administration, purely on optional advertising. The roll of newspapers was added to steadily. Weekly newspapers, monthly newspapers and even newspapers published at the seaside in the Summer season received the bounty of the city. Nearly all these were allowed to charge 40 cents a line agate measurement, which was a piece of jobbery. The charge of these weekly newspapers used to be 20 cents, and then 25 cents a line. They found, however, that they had to pay from 25 to 50 per cent. to George W. Foster, an unofficial attache of the Mayor's office, and so they increased their rate to 40 cents, which they received, thus forcing the city to pay the commission that was demanded. These weekly nwspapers began to grow to the point where it was really profitable to start one for the city advertising alone, and we find no fewer than 23 on the city payroll. The committee says that a saving on the municipal printing bill of $410,000 a year can be made.—New York Sun.

AIRSHIP ABOUT COMPLETED

Initial Flight of the Gouverneur-Chase Invention at Wrightsville Beach July the Fourth—Secrecy is Observed.

Although the utmost secrecy has been enjoined by the inventors and builders and nothing has as yet been given out officially, it is known from specials sent out to quite a number of the State papers yesterday, that on Moore's Beach, not many miles distant from the point on the North Carolina coast where the Wright brothers made their experiments with their aeroplane which has since proven such a great success, has been constructed by two prominent Wilmington business men, an aeroplane somewhat like the Wrights' as to the general plan, but very much different in many respects, the initial flight to be made July Fourth.

Should the present plans of the builders materialize as to the time of initial flight it is safe to say that the crowds at Wrightsville Beach July 4th will far surpass the number ever on the beach at any one time before.

Great secrecy has been maintained in regard to the machine, and it is said the place where it is kept can only be reached by boat. The machine was designed and constructed by Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur, vice president of the Tidewater Power Company, and the Carolina Trucking Development Company, and Mr. H. M. Chase, manager of the American Chemical and Textile Coloring Company, and it is built almost entirely of aluminum and weighs about 1,200 pounds. The planes are 16 feet wide and 30 feet long. The aeroplane is equipped with an engine capable of developing 250 horse-power and this alone cost something over $4,000, the cost of the entire machine exceeding $6,000.

First a model was made along the desired lines, it is said, and after being fully satisfied by tests that the aeroplane would fly, work was begun on the aluminum machine. For more than six months have Messrs. Gouverneur and Chase been at work on the "flyer" and it is now practically completed and several preliminary tests will be made before an effort is made to fly for any distance.

Mr. Chase will be at the helm when the aeroplane makes its initial flight on July Fourth, and the route will be along the sound side of Wrightsville Beach from Moore's Beach, which is north of Wrightsville, to the southern end of Wrightsville Beach.

Even though the aeroplane has been constructed in a few miles of Wilmington, such secrecy has been observed that the public generally knows nothing of the machine, not a word having been given out by the builders and the tests made with the model several months ago were at such times as to attract as little attention as possible.

Outside of the builders it is to be doubted if half a dozen people have seen the aeroplane, but one man who has seen it says that he has never beheld a more perfect piece of work, and that the lightness, when the size is taken into consideration and the durability, is almost unbelievable.

FORGERS AT WORK IN CITY.

Groceries Secured in Name of Brunswick Grocery Company.

Although the police have been at work for some days in an endeavor to secure a clue to the identity of the guilty person or persons, the forging of the name of the Brunswick Grocery Company to orders, by which goods were obtained from two wholesale houses, is as much a mystery as ever, and all hope of running down the perpetrators has practically been abandoned. On June 1st the Brunswick Grocery Company was presented a bill from the F. E. Hashagen Company for 50 pounds of lard and a half gross of snuff. Mr. W. W. Galloway, manager of the Brunswick Grocery Co., did not know of any such order nor did any of his clerks. The order was produced by the Hashagen Company, showing that it had been made out with a pencil. A few days later a bill was received by the firm from the wholesale grocery house of Mr. J. A. Taylor for a box of cigars and ten pounds of butter, the total amount being $4.70. Nothing was known at the store of the Brunswick Grocery Company about this order, either, and an investigation revealed the fact that it was also written with a pencil and perhaps by the same person as the order on Mr. Hashagen's house. Neither the clerks at the store of the F. E. Hashagen Company nor at Mr. Taylor's remember anything about the person who had the orders filled, and it is, therefore, unlikely that the guilty person or persons will ever be apprehended.

TUG TO TOW FOOTE.

Charleston Tug Arrives for Disabled Torpedo Boat at Southport.

A tug arrived yesterday at Southport from Charleston to tow back to the navy yard at that place the torpedo boat Foote, which was disabled off Flying Pan shoals last Saturday night and was towed into Southport Monday.

It is reported here that the tug started out with the Foote yesterday morning, but shortly afterwards returned to port to await more favorable weather. The torpedo boat Rodgers, which was with the Foote when she was disabled, and summoned aid by wireless remains at Southport and it is learned that there is some probability that the Rodgers may take the disabled vessel in tow in place of the tug and carry her back to Charleston.

MOTION IS OVERRULED.

Judge Connor Will Not Disturb Verdict in Fort Caswell Case.

It was learned here yesterday morning that Judge H. G. Connor, of the United States Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina, announced in Wilson Tuesday his decision on the motion made some months ago by the plaintiff to set aside the verdict in the case of Thompson against Harmon. Judge Connor denied the motion, which means that the verdict of the jury will not be disturbed by him. In order to contest the case further it will be necessary for the plaintiff to take an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The motion to set aside the verdict was decided by Judge Connor upon affidavits submitted by both sides. As is well known the action was really against the government and involved the title to a large portion of the government reservation at Fort Caswell, but some distance from the fort itself. The plaintiffs were represented at the trial by Hon. John D. Bellamy and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan, of this city, and C. Ed. Taylor, of Southport, while the government was represented by the then District Attorney Harry Skinner and Assistant District Attorney J. A. Giles. The action was hard fought on both sides and the hearing consumed several days. The costs in the action will amount to $3,000 or $4,000, it is estimated.

CUSTOM HOUSE MATTER.

District Attorney Seawell Here Yesterday Preparing Papers.

United States District Attorney H. F. Seawell, of Carthage, spent yesterday in Wilmington on business connected with the purchase by the government of the property upon which the new custom house will be located, arriving in the morning and leaving in the afternoon for his home. There were some minor defects in some of the titles to the property and it was to rectify these that the District Attorney came here. He stated o a Star representative that the deeds would be forwarded to the Treasury Department within the next few days and after the officials of the Department pass upon them, warrants will be sent to those from whom the property was purchased. It is understood that the work of tearing down and removing the old buildings on the site of the proposed new government building will be commenced in a short time now and just as soon thereafter as is possible the construction work of the building will begin.

Reward for Jack Melvin.

Owing to an error in the transmission of telegram by the Western Union Telegraph Co., the reward offered by Mr. D. C. Bullard, of Boardman, for the arrest and detention of one Jack Melvin was given at $100 when it should have been only $10. Melvin who has completed a term in the penitentiary and lives at Clarkton, rented a bicycle from the Boardman Bicycle Co., and ran off with it and stole $20 from Dr. Northington, of Boardman. Melvin was arrested yesterday at Clarkton.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

Fine Address on Education by J. O. Carr, Esq., at Opening Session—Delegates Arriving in Large Numbers.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chadbourn, N. C., June 15.—The 22nd annual session of the Woman's Missionary of the Wilmington Presbytery began here this evening. The devotional services were conducted by Rev. Eugene Carr, after which J. O. Carr, Esq., of Wilmington, delivered an address on "Christian Education."

Mr. Carr delivered his address in a very easy, but forceful manner. He stated in his opening remarks that when he was called upon to deliver the address his first inclinations were to decline and he would have done so had it not been for his interest in this subject. Especially did he desire to address the women's organization for he considered it a body for the purpose of doing work. "The question of education," said he, "is as old as the hills and as new as a brand new dollar. It is a question we will have to consider always. It is a most discouraging problem; for as soon as you have lifted one man up you find another in the ditch. What I mean by this is, that as soon as you educate one, here comes another that has to be educated and we sometimes think as we grow older we know less than we did in former years. * * * This is the age of ideals, the man who has the ideas is the man who counts. The man who has them not does not count."

He brought out most effectively the fact that public intelligence is an asset. Especially is it an asset the church needs. He then went on to show the different kinds of education—that if the child's mind is trained to grasp scientific truth, it is given a scientific education, if it be mathematics it is a mathematical education, and that if it be religious truths it is a Christian education. The speaker then brought out most forcibly the value of an education. He used as an illustration the construction of a building. First the hod carrier, getting his dollar or two per day; then the tradesman, getting his five or eight dollars per day; and then the architect, with his blue prints the product of a master mind that had calculated every piece of material and every expense, getting his twenty or twentyfive dollars per day. "The success of a man," said he, "is in proportion to his ideas." He then illustrated this point by the lives of such men as Napoleon and Stonewall Jackson and other great men who succeeded because they were men who had ideas. "John D. Rockfeller succeeds because he has more business sense than all the rest of the country put togther," said he.

Children must be trained along the right line, and according to their training so will our future government be, was a point he emphasized, and in connection with this he impressed the fact of the duties we have to perform. He brought out the Christian teaching of the brotherhood of man, showing that we have brethren who are our keepers and that we are our brothers' keeper. That if we were alone on some lonely island we would have no obligation of the kind, but that when another shares this land with us that our rights are diminished by half and our obligations increased two fold. He spoke of having been impressed by the absolute necessity of the proper kind of education.

Then the speaker also referred to the discouragements of providing the proper means of education and the task of getting the children to attend school. He spoke of the conditions in Wilmington and at the University—of only two out of three attending in the former and the need of raising $500,000 for the latter in order to keep up with the progress of the times. He showed how that there was room for every educational institution we could get and that no institution need die because of competition. "Education," said he, "is as contagious as the measels. It ought to be in the Wilmington Presbytery that the children can be educated in Presbyterian schools." By this, he explained, he did not mean to secularize any one, but that the teachings in a secular school were more in the line of Christian education. He stated that there were no reasons why the great Wilmington Presbytery, with all of its wealth, should not have schools that would take care of the children. Lack of co-operation was the cause assigned. We have got to take interest and know about these things, said he, before anything can be done.

The speaker then referred to the James Sprunt Institute and told of the splendid work it is doing. He paid a glowing tribute to Columbus county in the support she has given this most worthy institution and stated that if the other counties in the Presbytery would do as well the school would be on an excellent footing. He then paid a beautiful tribute to the only pupil that had ever died at the institution, little May Johnson, and told of the tender love in which she is held. Reference was then made to the May Jones Memorial Fund, the amount raised and the disposition now being made of it. Three hundred or three fifty was the amount raised and it was decided to loan it to worthy girls to help them through school, that the interest should go on the original purpose and thus serve two purposes. It was his desire that steps should be taken to increase this fund and this he wished to be understood to be the burden of his speech. This he urged upon the Union.

A large number of delegates are present and more are looked for on the early trains tomorrow. They convene again at 9:45 tomorrow at which time the regular business of the organization will be taken up. This after an address of welcome by Mrs. J. A. Brown.

WELCH-YATES NUPTIALS.

Popular Young Couple United in Marriage Last Night.

Mr. Leroy R. Welch, son of Mr. John T. Welch, of this city, and Miss Hazel S. Yates, daughter of Mrs. W. R. Bate, also of Wilmington, were united in marriage at 9 o'clock last night, the ceremony being performed at the parsonage of Trinity Methodist church by Rev. E. R. Welch, pastor of the church. Occurring as it did just after the prayer service at Trinity church, a short distance from the parsonage, the nuptial event was witnessed by a large number, in addition to the friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Welch are very popular with a host of friends who will extend happiest felicitations and best wishes. They will reside in Wilmington.

The announcement of the marriage will come as much of a surprise to the friends of the young couple, as only a few were apprised of the fact that it was to be celebrated last night. Miss Yates has been cashier at Kress' store for some time and is a very popular young lady, while the groom is a popular young business man, doing business on Market street. Immediately after the ceremony the party went to the nome of Miss Maude Durant, No. 712 North Fifth street, where a delightful reception was tendered. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Welch will make their nome at the residence of Mrs. U. C. Ellis, 205 Church street.

PROMINENT VISITOR LEAVES.

Senator-Elect Broward and Party Return to Jacksonville, Fla.

After spending two days in the city on business connected with his extensive steamboat interests in Florida, ex-Governor and Senator-elect Broward and party returned yesterday morning to their home in Jacksonville, Fla. The party consisted of N. B. Broward, M. Broward, M. Broward, Jr., and M. L. Paine and they were guests at The Orton during their stay in the city. Senator-elect Broward is a leader in the political life of Florida and is also a most successful business man. He served his State as Governor for four years, his term expiring in April, 1909, and he would not stand for re-election, preferring to enter the Senatorial contest against Senator Taliaferro, the incumbent. In the second primary Mr. Broward secured the nomination by a plurality of more than 50,000. For many years he has been largely interested in the steamboat business, and is owner of craft at Jacksonville, Fla., Savannah, Ga., and at other places. Formerly he was captain of ocean going and river steamers and is well known among seafaring men, who are always delighted to see him.

RICKMERS IN COLLISION.

Steamer Bound for Wilmington Collided With British Vessel.

A dispatch from Bremen, Germany, states that the German steamer Madeline Rickmers, outward bound for Wilmington from that port, had a collision with the British steamer Cayahoga and was damaged.

The steamer had a cargo of fertilizer constituents and according to the dispatch must have returned to Bremen for repairs. The damaged steamer is a sister ship of the steamer Ellen Rickmers, which was recently damaged in the Cape Fear river and towed away for repairs.

The dispatch, printed in the New York Herald, is as follows: "A dispatch from Bremen states that the steamer Madeline Rickmers (Ger.) outward bound for Wilmington, was damaged in collision today with steamer Cayahoga (Br.) from Port Natal. Damage, if any, to the Cayahoga is not known."

APPROACH OF ROOSEVELT

A Wireless From His Steamer—Receiving Messages.

On Board Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, by Wireless to Cape Race, New Foundland, June 15.—This steamer which includes among its passengers former President Roosevelt entered the American zone of wireless telegraphy today and this message will go forward by was of Cape Race land station. At noon the vessel was 1,165 miles east of Sandy Hoow. She should be off the Hook about 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and ordinarily would dock about 11 o'clock.

Mr. Roosevelt would be saved from his friends. He appeals to the public to refrain from sending him any but important messages. The three wireless operators on board are engaged constantly in handling Roosevelt messages and it is feared that the rush will be increased as the steamer approaches New York.

The replies to these messages cost Mr. Roosevelt heavily and he is compelled to leave many unanswered. Most of those received are friendly greetings from various societies and individuals in the United States.

Colonel Roosevelt iterated to those on board who talked to him today that he shall decline to discuss politics or to make speeches anywhere until two months after his arrivel in the United States. He will make this plain immediately when he lands by a further statement of his attitude.

PAST WARS CRUDELY WAGED.

Secretary Dickinson Speaks at West Point Commencement.

West Point, N. Y., June 15.—Our past wars were crudely waged compared with what war would be now, said Secretary of War Dickinson today in an address to the graduating class at the United States Military Academy. "Specialization and technique," the Secretary declared, "are demanded in military affairs as inexorably as in art, manufacture, commerce, transportation, education, medicine, law and indeed in every department of human activity.

"We have come into the international limelight and have assumed the responsibilities of a first class power. If we should engage in hostilities with any nation of respectable strength the clash would be quick and stupendous. Our commanders, unless the war shall endure long enough to forge out of crude metal thunderbolts of war, must already have been trained in a way that surpasses all conceptions of military education entertained a quarter of a century back. From these conditions, we may expect, if we shall have wars, that men trained in the school of the soldier will be in the future, and perhaps even more than they have in the past, potential both in our military and civil administration. What, therefore, should more profoundly engage our care than the education of those who more certainly than any other class of our citizens of equal number will affect our National life?

This day, that makes such an eventful period in the careers of so many who will be in line for leadership of our armies and perhaps high civic office, does not pass unheeded by the American people. Our army and navy schools are looked to with pride and inspire hope. These sentiments are fully justified by what these great institutions have done for the nation. With them are linged the names of many whose fame is a priceless heritage to our people."

W. E. Pearson, a grocer doing business at corner of 13th and Market streets, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman C. G. In addition to the complainant there are Daniel Justice, Bud Hobbs, W. I. Hobbs, and W. N. Hobbs. Owing to the fact that some of the witnesses are out of the city the case will not be investigated until Friday. The defendant gave $200 bond with his attorney, Woodus Kellum, Esq., as surety. K. C. DECISIVE HOUR FOR MISSIONS

Warning Sounded to Christian Churches at Edinburgh Conference.

Edinburgh, June 15.—A warning to Christian churches of the world that a devisive hour for missions had come was given in the report of the commission on Carrying the Gospel to All the Non-Christian World, presented today to the International Missionary Conference here. The commission says that opportunities which have been neglected in the past are the reproach of the church. The church in Christian lands, says the report, needs energizing that it may carry on the work. The commission urged that an international committee be formed, and that a great movement to carry Christianity into every region with increased force be undertaken.

The report was presented by John R. Mott, of New York, chairman of the commission. It expresses the conviction that the present is the time of all times "for the church to undertake with quickened loyalty and sufficient forces to make Christ known to all the non-Christian world."

"It is an opportune time," says the commission. "Never before has the whole world fiedl been so open and so accessible. Never before has the Christian Church faced such a combination of opportunities among both primitive and cultured peoples.

"It is a testing time for the Church. If it neglects to meet successfully the present world crisis by failing to discharge its responsibility to the whole world, it will weaken its power both on the home and foreign fields and seriously handicap its mission to the coming generation. Nothing less than the adequacy of Christianity as a world religion is on trial.

"The utter inadequacy of the present missionary force to discharge effectively the duty of world-wide evangelization is evident. There should be nothing less than a vast enlargement in the number of qualified workers, a thorough and courageous adaptation of means and methods to meet the situation, a wise unification in plans and forces, and a whole-hearted fulfilling of the conditions of spiritual power."

Turning its attention to fields on which the church should concentrate attention and effort, the commission reports that in China there is an unique opportunity fraught with far-reaching issues for the future of China and of all Christendom. The advance of Islam in Equatorial Africa present sthe question, the report says, whether the Dark Continent shall become Mohamedan or Christian. India and the Mohammedan world as a whole, particularly Turkey and Persia, are pointed out as other large fields for effort.

R. R. ENTERPRISE CHARTERED.

From Roberdel to Gibson—Other Corporations—Sheriff's Commissions.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 15.—The Rockingham Railroad Co., was chartered today for the construction of a railroad from Roberdel No. 1, Richmond county, via Rockingham, to Gibson, in Scotland county, a distance of 24 miles. Among the incorporators are W. C. and J. P. Leak and M. L. Hinson. The capital is $150,000.

There were also charters today for The Farmville Oil and Fertilizer Co., of Farmville, capital $100,000, by B. W. Lewis and others, and The Dixie Development Co., Wadesboro, capital $100,000 authorized and $17,000, by J. W. Gulledge and others.

The county commissioners and Sheriff J. H. Sears spent today rounding up the annual tax settlement. The settlement sheet shows that the commissions of the sheriff on the increased five per cent. basis that has figured so prominently in the impending Democratic primary campaign aggregated $7,900. This represents the bulk of the receipts of the sheriff's office, other sources being fees for serving processes and jail fees both of which are inconsiderable. The sheriff has to keep a corps of 20 odd deputies distributed throughout the county and they share his gross revenue.

The work of installing the electric light, ventilation and aditional heating equipment for the capitol building is to begin Monday, the Carolina Electrical Construction Co., of this city, being the contractor.

HARRIS TRIAL NEARS END.

Sharp Tilt Between Attorneys—Defendant on the Stand.

Manassas, Va., June 15.—Both sides practically closed their cases today in the trial here of Prof. J. D. Harris, former principal of the Warrenton High School, being tried for the murder in Warrenton in April, 1909, of W. A. Thompson, associate editor of the Warrenton Virginian. Upon the assembling of the court tomorrow prayers for instructions will be presented and argument probably will begin in the afternoon.

Harris himself testified in his own behalf this morning declaring that he shot Thompson in self defense. At the afternoon session there was a vigorous tilt between counsel as to the introduction of testimony by witnesses for the commonwealth, who testified as to Harris having called Irvine Maxheimer, brother-in-law of Thompson, to take charge of Thompson on the eve of the difficulty and as to the statement alleged to have been made by Harris to the effect that he had shot Thompson to save himself from bodily harm and that he was sorry he had shot him. Judge Thornton ruled that the testimony be adjudicated a new evidence and expressed a willingness to accord the defense a like privilege.

HON. JOHN H. PEARSON FOR CORPORATION COMMISSIONER.

Morganton, N. C., June 1.—It is but fair to the Democracy of North Carolina that we should inform the voters something regarding the fitness, character and qualifications of the man whom Burke county will present as a candidate for Corporation Commissioner as the successor to the Hon. Samuel L. Rogers at the next State convention.

Mr. John H. Pearson, born and raised in our midst, has been identified with every progressive movement in the development of this section.

Called by a united Democracy to redeem his county two years after our first defeat in 1894, he defeated a popular candidate who was nominated by the Populist party and endorsed by the Republican party, in the campaign of 1896, at a time when the landslide from Democracy occurred in nearly every county in North Carolina.

Many editors of the State papers will remember his welcome to the North Carolina Press Association when it met in Morganton some years ago, while he was Mayor of Morganton.

While Mr. Pearson is no stranger to the people of the State, it is well to recount some of his services to his State and party. His record in the Legislature of 1897, though among the small minority, his services in the interest of the shippers and tax-payers while on the board of railroad commissioners in 1897 and 1898, his familiarity with freight rates and the needs of the great shipping industries of our people, entitle him to the recognition we ask for him. We do not hesitate to say a fairer or more impartial man, towards all citizens, be they natural or artificial, will not be found in the State. He will not be swayed by popular clamor unless backed by justice, and fair and equitable treatment of those interests concerned.

We appeal to every citizen who wishes the corporation commission to exercise its duties as was intended by the act creating it, to nominate for the Western vacancy John H. Pearson, a man who will act impartially and firmly with the other two members and which will give us a Commission that our State will be proud of.

TAFT AND ROUGH RIDERS.

Troopers at the White House Today. President Speaks in Ohio.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 15.—President Taft and the 100 Rough Riders, who are on their way to New York by special train to participate in the Roosevelt reception next Saturday, passed through Parkersburg tonight. The President's train is due in Washington at 6:30 tomorrow morning. Mr. Taft will receive the Roosevelt troopers at the White House tomorrow.

The President spent most of today at Marietta, Ohio, where he delivered an historical address at the 75th anniversary of the founding of Marietta College. The President also received the degree of doctor of civil law.

Mr. Taft made a brief address to a big station throng from the rear of his car here. His hearers were mostly railway employes, and this caused him to say something of the necessity for more safety appliances to protect the lives and limbs of men employed on railroads. He said great progress had been made in reducing the frightful mortality, but there was still room for improvement.

"I travel so much," said the President, "that I feel like a railroad man myself, and I want the men engaged in that work to be as safe as possible, for when they are safe, the passengers are safe."

The President referred to the fact that President Harrison began the safety appliance reforms and that Col. Roosevelt did much to carry on the work. The mention of Mr. Roosevelt's name was the signal for cheering.

Mr. Taft referred to the new railroad bill, saying it had been enacted not to attack the railroads, but to secure justice for them and to do justice to all interests.

"What I plead for," Mr. Taft concluded amid cheers, "is a square deal for all interests, whether they be farmers, railroaders, manufacturers or working men. We are all in the same boat together and what injures one, injures all. We want a health development of all and justice to all."

The President left at 6:55 P. M. for Washington, just ahead of the Roosevelt Rough Riders' special.

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—After battling with a badly and damaged aeroplane against high winds for more than 15 hours today in an attempt to fly from Topeka to this city, J. C. Mars gave up the effort temporarily at Midland, Kas., tonight. He traveled about 30 miles during the day.

HERE AT HOME

Wilmington Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Wilmington citizen:

R. F. Rowan, 603 Castle St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I have no reason to alter my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills, publicly expressed some years ago, after I had used them with good results. Since then many people have called on me and asked if the statement I gave were true and it was always afforded me pleasure to answer in the affirmative. As the result of a strain, I suffered a great deal from backache. At times I was so lame that I could hardly straighten and my back was so weak that I was unable to lift. I tried plasters and liniments but they did me no good and when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at Robert R. Bellamy's Drug Store. I felt relieved after taking a few doses and continued use strengthened my back and disposed of the pains. Since then there has been no return attack of kidney complaint and I firmly believe my cure is a permanent one.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Fluctuations Irregular on the Market Yesterday—Spot Cotton Closed Quiet, Five Points Lower. Disappointing Cables.

New York, June 15.—The cotton market continued quiet today with fluctuations irregular within a range of 8 to 9 points and the close easy at a net loss of 2 to 9 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 6 points in response to disappointing cables. There was not a great deal of cotton for sale, however, and during the middle of the day prices steadied up to a net gain of about 1 to 4 points on the general list as a result of scattered covering and a little bull support which occurred to be encouraged by reports of rain in the Eastern belt and apprehensions that the wet weather would lead to a less bearish July bureau than anticipated. Support did not become at all general, however, and late in the day the market eased off under realizing with last prices at practically the lowest. Private cables attributed the indifferent showing of the Liverpool market to less satisfactory trade conditions and said that short time was being resorted to in manufacturing circles.

The reports of curtailment abroad, in connection with the increasing curtailment among domestic mills is having some influence in the direction of offsetting the strong statistical position while views as to the outlook for the new crop are confused by the favorable reports from Western and Central sections of the belt as contrasted with the talk of too much rain in the Eastern belt and numerous advices reporting the presence of boot weevil in all the districts infested last year. A week from next Tuesday will be the first July notice day in the local market, and there has been nothing in recent trading to indicate any big speculative short interest still outstanding, but views as to this are almost much confused as on other phases of the situation and some suggest that the July interest may be waiting for the July condition report before evening up either way. Southern spot markets were generally unchanged.

Receipts at the ports today 2,029 bales against 5,105 last week and 3,916 last year; for the week 30,000 bales against 27,519 last week and 35,785 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 684 bales against 1,447 last year, and at Houston 434 bales against 201 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 5 points lower; middling uplands 15.25; middling gulf 15.50; sales 1,248 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed easy.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

No Adequate Response to Improvement of the Day Before.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, June 15.—A dull market abroad at higher prices, but not quite so good as expected, did not impress the trade as an adequate response to the improvement yesterday, and the course of prices during the day reflects this feeling. While the decline was only a slight one, it reflects the disappointment felt at the refusal of Liverpool to go on buying at the advance. Rains were falling over the South Atlantic States, but the weather was favorable over the rest of the cotton belt.

STOCK MARKET CONDITIONS

Possesses No Distinctive Feature Except Its Apathy—Prices Yielded Readily to Light Selling Pressure—Features.

New York, June 15.—The stock market at present possesses no distinctive feature except its apathy. In the course of the day this amounted to stagnation. The professional traders found very light offerings of stock for sale, and they argued from this a strong undertone and operated, in consequence, for an advance. Attempts to sell stocks, however developed as thin a demand as there were offerings and prices yilded readily to light selling pressure.

Railroad officials still talk of the necessity of retrenchment under the time has arrived when they are allowed to put higher freight rates into force.

At the same time, there was a disposition in the financial district to ascribe a feeling of satisfaction to the capitalistic powers with the coming completion of the railroad bill.

The strength of Erie was supposed to be due to the evidence of improvement in its terminal facilities. The home coming of J. Pierpont Morgan was given also as an influence on that stock. Reading got some benefit from yesterday's extra dividend declaration on Central Railroad of New Jersey, controlled by Reading. Announcement of a traffic agreement between Southern Pacific and St. Louis and San Francisco involving business between St. Louis and the gulf ports had a strengthening influence on the Harriman properties.

A pronounced recess on in foreign exchange rates was a feature of the day. Bills against the Southern Pacific bonds placed in Germany were supposed to affect that market. There was also reported an encouraging development in the foreign trade situation in the declining tendency of valeu of imports in May, the bureau statistics showing the smallest imports of any month since August of last year. The month's exports, at the same time were sustained at a record for May only eclipsed in 1907. Some large sums were disbursed in dividends including $9,000,000 by the Standard Oil Company, but the money market was not appreciably affected.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $2,146,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales stocks today 352,500 shares.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, June 15.—The dry goods market was quiet and steady for the day. Cotton goods appear to hold fairly firm although in light call. Underwear and hosiery are being shown for spring at prices slightly in advance over last year, although cotton yarns are materially higher. Fancy silks are moving and a better call is reported for some staples used by the manufacturers trades.

OBADIAH WATKINS DEAD.

Well Known Pender Citizen and Brave Confederate Soldier.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., June 15.—At his home near Rocky Point, Mr. Obadiah F. Watkins died suddenly today from heart trouble, aged 66 years. Mr. Watkins was a brave Confederate soldier at Fort Fisher, led an active life and was up about his work to the last. Mr. Watkins was survived by his wife, Mrs. G. Watkins, and seven sons, A. B. Watkins, M. W. Watkins, D. J. Watkins and C. Watkins, of Wilmington; L. V. Watkins, Petersburg, Va.; O. A. Watkins, J. H. Watkins, of Wallace, and the following daughters, Mrs. Sarah Millis, Mrs. Martha Tucker, of Warsaw; Mrs. Penny Brown, of Wrightsboro; Mrs. Nancy Bowen, Castle Haynes, and 38 grandchildren. The remains will be buried near his home, a place he had selected. Thus passes away another valiant Confederate veteran to his eternal reward.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, June 15.—New Wheat from Oklahoma began to be sold here today and is under contract to be delivered in this city the first half of July. The effect was a prompt lowering of the relative value of nearby options and at the same time an improvement in the quotations for the months more deferred. The premium for December over September widened out to 1 cent against 1-2c last night. Official forecast of clear weather for the Northwest was coupled with denials that there had been any rain which was heavy enough to be of material benefit to the spring wheat and gave the market here considerable strength the last half of the day. The close was steady at 3-8 to 7-8c net advance for distant deliveries, and with the Jul delivery at exactly last night's figures. Corn finished 3-8 to 1-2 to 5-8c up, and oats 3-4 to 7-8c. Final figures for provisions were irregular, 7 1-2c low to 5c. higher.

THE COMO TRAGEDY.

Belief Now is That Porter Charlton is Alive—Suspect.

Como, Italy, June 15.—The police are convinced that Porter Charlton is alive. They claim to have indisputable evidence that he was seen on the evening of the day the body of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton was found in Lake Como. That would eliminate the theory of a double murder and the police do not believe that Charlton committed suicide.

The American ambassador, Mr. Leischman, however, is determined that no measures shall be neglected which would give the missing man the benefit of the doubt and he has arranged with the Italian authorities to have the bottom of the lake thoroughly explored. This will be done with grappling irons and divers will be sent down at various points near the spot where the fishermen found the trunk containing the woman's body. The divers will reach here tomorrow from Genoa.

Count Guigli, the crown protector, has taken upon himself the whole investigation of the case which is now before examining magistrate Judge Fracassi. The examination is being held in strict secrecy.

The answers of Constantine Ispolatoff, the Russian suspect, who is now under arrest to the various interrogations, have either been in the form of a denial or an evasive explanation. One of the lines of inquiry today led to the question of the disappearance of a set of brass knuckles, which was known to be the property of Ispolatoff. The Russion could not account for the disappearance of the weapon, but it developed that Mrs. Charlton had once asked him for the knuckles which he had refused to give her. The police are of the opinion that the weapon played a part in the murder.

Nor has Ispolatoff been able sufficiently to explain how or where he spent June 4th, 5th and 6th. His examination is not yet completed as the authorities are certain that he has not yet told all he knows about the domestic life of the Charltons and the murder.

THE DILLON TRAGEDY

True Bill For Murder Against Hotel Keeper—Parties.

Dillon, S. C., June 15.—In Dillon county's first term of criminal court a true bill for murder was today returned against R. S. Davis, the hotel keeper, who shot and killed Sidney Hurzey, of the Dillon bar on the street yesterday afternoon, because Davis alleged Hurzey had ruined his home.

The coroner's jury found that either of the two wounds Hurzey received would have been fatal and held Davis responsible. Hurzey was the son of a minister. He was a graduate of the University of North Carolina and was admitted to the bar four years ago. He recently inherited $15,000. He intended moving to the West.

NEGRO SENT TWO TO JAIL.

White Man Tried for Violating Prohibition Law.

Anniston, Ala., June 15.—For the first time since reconstruction days two white men have been convicted before a negro magistrate. Bunk Odell and Eugene Wade were arrested in Hobson City, a negro town, on the charge of violating the prohibition laws. Each pleaded guilty at the trial before Mayor Addison Snow, a negro. They could not pay the fine and were sent to jail.

MOVE AGAINST STEEL TRUST.

Asks Attorney General for Information In Regard to the Industry.

Washington, June 15.—The Judiciary Committee of the House today made a move against the "steel trust" by reporting favorably a resolution by Representative Stanley, Democrat of Kentucky, calling upon the Attorney General for information which would tend to show that there exists at the present time an unlawful conspiracy in restraint of trade in that industry. The resolution will be reported to the House tomorrow by Chairman Parker, Republican, of New Jersey, who said today that he had no doubt the House would pass it practically without opposition.

thrown into an uproar by the message.

Rickard estimates that he will lose $30,000 if he is forced to take the fight elsewhere. He said he would consider Reno and Ely, Nev., and Salt Lake City. He is said to favor the Utah capital.

Work on the arena was ordered suspended temporarily when the action of the Governor became known.

The legal proceedings, it is believed, will make no difference at the fighter's camps.

It is probable they will go on with their training as though nothing had happened, but the whole matter is in such a disturbed and unsettled state tonight that it is hard to predict what the next move of the interested parties will be.

District Attorney Fickert, mention of whom is made by the Governor in his letter to the Attorney General displayed some bitterness when asked for a statement.

He said that the Governor had "heeded the clamor of the mob", and made satirical reference to "political capital."

"However," he concluded, "I still believe that the fight will be held here, as the courts are more powerful than the Governor."

Seeking a reason for the action of Governor Gillett, following his repeated declarations that he did not believe the fight could be prevented, and he did not purpose to begin useless opposition, many think that pressure was brought to bear on him from Washington; that the State's representative at the National Capital have informed him that the holding of the fight was standing in the way of San Francisco's effort to procure the Panama Pacific Exposition.

Sportsmen tonight generally expressed themselves as believing that the good days of pug sm in California are over and that even though the Jeffries and Johnson fight be carried through the next session of the Legislature will be forced to go on record as prohibiting bouts of more than a few rounds.

In his letter to Attorney General Webb, Governor Millett after stating that prize fighting has greatly increased and been tolerated in California "until today our State is a mecca for prize figaters, much to our discredit," says: 'Our people have the right to demand that prize fighting shall cease in this State and if our laws are enforced, especially if our courts follow the decisions of the Supreme Courts of our sister States in defining a prize fight. To show that the so-called sparring exhibitions' held in this State under the auspices of incorporated athletic clubs have not been sparring exhibitions but prize fighters, I need but refer you to the files of our daily newspapers."

The Governor then calls attention to two or three recent ones mentioning the Moran-McCarthy, the Nelson-Wolgast and the Conley and Attell fights and then adds:

"If these contests were not prize fights then the historic battle between Heenan and Sayers was not one. I have no doubt that the coming contest between Jeffries and Johnson will be a repetition of the brutality mentioned in the foregoing fights, only on a larger scale.

"If sparring exhibitions permitted by our laws, makes fights where men are killed, beaten into insensibility and their faces' cut into ribbons' are lawful acts, then it is time that the Legislature should interfere and make such exhibitions a felony.

"Such contests are prize fight not permitted by law and should be punished as such. Those who engage in them are prize fighters and make their living by fighting each other for prizes or rewards.

"The whole business is demoralizing to the youth of our State, corrupts public morals, is offensive to the senses of a great majority of our citizens and should be abated as a public nuisance and the offenders punished.

"If the court upon your petition, refuses to grant the relief prayed for therein and permits the parties interested to proceed as advetised by them, then I desire you, on behalf of the people of the State, to gather all evidence possible and if the contest is carried out as advertised and the parties fight for a purse or for a reward and inflict upon each other bodily injury then you are to cause the arrest of the principals and those interested with them in promoting the fight and try them on a felony charge for violating section 412 of the penal code."

As Viewed in Washington.

Washington, June 15.—The move of the State authorities of California to stop the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight is believed in Washington to have had its origin in a telegram which Representative Bennet (Republican) of New York, sent to Wm. R. Wheeler, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, on May 23rd. The telegram was to the effect that the moral sentiment of the country was so opposed to the fight that unless it was prevented there was grave danger that Congress would take unfavorable action on the resolution now before it, naming San Francisco the place for holding the international celebration of the opening of the Panama Canal. Mr. Bennet is a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House, which has the exposition resolution under consideration. He recently received a telegram from San Francisco asking his support of the resolution for the San Francisco fair. He replied as above stated. When informed today that Governor Gillett had moved to call off the fight Mr. Bennet was much gratified. He said:

"Prize fighting is prohibited by law in my State and in most all States. The sentiment of the country is, I believe, strongly opposed to such exhibitions."

In response to Mr. Bennet's telegram he received one from Mr. Wheeler, which said: "Please urge on your committee that the public spirited citizens promoting the San Francisco exposition and people generally interested therein are not favorable to the Jeffries-Johnson fight. Undoubtedly the preponderant majority of our people are opposed to the fight. It would be decidedly unjust to consider the latter proposition in connection with the former."

The Foreign Affairs Committee will consider tomorrow the resolutions of San Francisco and New Orleans, asking for recognition for their proposed expositions. In view of the action of the California authorities on the proposed prize fight, it is understood Mr. Bennet will favor San Francisco as against New Orleans, for the Panama Canal Celebration.

Ben Lomond, Cal., June 15.—Jeffries, apprised of the action of Governor Gillett, said:

"I can't believe. I do not think that the Governor would do that after he had repeatedly said that he would not interfere. I shall continue my training until officially informed that the fight is off." Jeffries appeared crestfallen.

An Offer From Texas.

El Paso, Texas, June 15.—A telegram was sent to Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason, by prominent business men here, proposing that the big fight be held in the bull ring at Juarez, Mexico. The arena will seat 30,000.

Any Place for Johnson.

San Francisco, June 15.—"I don't care where the fight takes place," declared Jack Johnson tonight. "Of course I would rather have it come off in San Francisco as I am training here, but if we cannot fight here I am willing to go any place Rickard and Gleason agree upon."

Like Jeffries, Johnson said he could not understand why Governor Gillett had decided to step in and prevent the fight at this late date.

New York, June 15.—Broadway was startled by the news from San Francisco, but the assumption that the fight probably would be held elsewhere if the California ban is not raised, eased the first fears of the sporting element. So far as could be learned none of the special trains from New York to San Francisco has been cancelled and the assumption is that the routes merely will be transferred from California to Nevada or Utah.

Tom Sharkey, who had arranged to conduct an expedition to California voiced the general view of the fight followers here.

"Governor Gillett's action will not prevent the fight being held," said Sharkey. "If the men can't meet there the fight will be shifted to Carson City or some other point.

"Wherever the battle takes place I will run a special train to the scene. If necessary we will go to the North pole."

Arthur J. Sheldon, who makes a business of running special trains to big sporting events and had arranged for what was known as the "Wall Street Special" to the fight said that ever since Governor Gillett was reported several weeks ago to have said that the fight was a "frame up", he had received cancellations of reservations every day, and that the same thing had happened to all other managers of special train parties.

"It has resolved itself into a big money making affair and true sport had been lost sight of in the shuffle," he said. "Therefore, when the 'fake flag' was raised, a good many who had intended to go, dropped out."

William Rockwell, "Young Corbett", had this to say:

"I knew this was going to happen. I looked for it sooner. There were too many fighters in the pie and too much wrangling."

Jeffries is a 10 to 8 favorite over Johnson, according to a bet made today on the New Stock Exchange. Although several small wagers have been made on the exchange upon the outcome of the fight, this bet $500 to $400 is the largest yet made among exchange members.

A BITTER CONTROVERSY.

Arose at Bribery Investigation in Ohio Yesterday.

Chicago, June 15.—A bitter controversy as to the admissibility of the testimony of State Representatives George W. Myers, H. J. C. Beckemeyer and Michael S. Link was in full swing when the trial of Lee O'Neil Browne, Democratic minority leader of the Illinois Legislature charged with paying Representative C. A. White $1,000 to vote for William Lorimer for United States Senator was adjourned today.

It is probable that the mooted point will not be settled before noon tomorrow.

Charles A. White, formerly representative, of O'Fallon Illinois, who precipitated the bribery scandal by "confessing" he had received $1,000 from Browne for his vote for Lorimer, admitted, under cross-examination that he would as readily have accepted $5 or $10 for his vote. The names of Agnes, Edith and Catherine Wood, of St. Louis, were brought into the case today. The defense charges that the girls at White's request had altered railroad passes for him. The defense accused White of boasting to Catherine Wood that he "had something" on Senator Lorimer and that he would get money out of the Senator or his friends. White stoutly denied making such boasts.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

Woman Victim of Unknown Assailant —Left for Dead.

Oakland, Cal., June 15.—Bound and gagged and with her feet, arms and legs burned and horribly mutilated, Miss Mary Delgado, 17 years old, was found half dead today on the front porch of her home unconscious from some drug. The victim was discovered by her brother Frank who stumbled over the body.

Splotches of blood from wounds on her arms and feet covered her night gown and a sheet snatched from her own bed by unknown assailants was wound about the lower part of her body. Her hands were tied behind her with one of her own stockings, bound around her throat, prevented her regaining consciousness. The family can furnish no explanation of the attack.

The "bargain hunter" is no longer the woman who merely haunts the stores. She is the woman who watches the ads and goes to the stores strictly on business.

A RACE AGAINST DEATH

Son of Dying President of Guatamala Hurrying Home.

Louisville, Ky., June 15.—In a race against death, Diego Cabrera, son of President Manuel Estrada Cahrera, of Guatamala, passed Louisville today on a special train for New Orleans, where he will take a steamer home that he may spend his last days with his father and countrymen.

He is said to be dying of consumption and six physicians are accompanying him. The special train was stopped at Wortnville, 13 miles from Louisville to administer strychnine and a pallor which overspread his features led those around him to believe that he was fast sinking. However, he rallied and it is believed he will survive the trip. He is from Paris and arrived in New York in a few days, after leaving there.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK CAR

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 15.—Some culprit made an unsuccessful attempt tonight about 9 o'clock to wreck one of the street cars. The motorman was running at a fast clip and did not see the obstruction upon the track, which consisted of spikes and several pieces of old iron, until he was within very close range, but managed to apply the brakes in time to prevent what might otherwise have been a serious wreck. The car jumped the track but outside of this no other damage was done. The officials are at a loss to account for the attempted wreck, while some think it was the work of mischievous boys.
